

The Königsberg Times

13 October 2020

"Written by the 8th, for the 8th."

Hosted by BMG Hosting

The 8th Ohio Marches On, Jägers, Denmark a Conspiracy? Wars of Attrition Across the Board!

Updates on the Civil War

Event:

New Maps! The 8thLR has decided to add two new maps to the 8thLR Civil War event! The maps ACW – Redemption and Bloody Lanes have been added! Bloody Lanes is a historically accurate map made using maps from the United States Archives made by Slyk_MinionWorkz.

(One of the many Gatling Guns on ACW – Redemption)

The map ACW – Redemption is an interesting map, although the map terrain looks like Europe, some of the fences have swivel guns, European Windmills, and other historical inaccuracies the map does include breakable trees, deer, Civil War style cannons (props can't be shot) and Gatling guns (props can't be shot) map made by AGS Harper. Fixed Caps! Currently the Civil War Caps for all units are being fixed. A player named Previatto from the 21st has made several Civil War-style caps, another community member named Lobcity is blending the caps to models to be used in the Civil War event. Attila, our lead on the Civil War event, is also working to redo the caps, so they fit with the new models. The fixed caps should be all out by the end of the month. Missing Head Fix!!! With the help of Wrexial there is a good chance within the next few weeks the missing head glitch will be fixed. With the guidance of Wrexial, Lobcity will be able to create models where the head won't disappear. However, we do not have a lot of information on this story sadly.

Come on out on Mondays for the Civil War Public Linebattle on the Holdfast: A House Divided Server (which is now open 24/7) and

The Königsberg Times

Wednesdays to our Private Linebattle and help the 8th Ohio beat the Rebs back to Richmond!

(Written by Attila)

You May Strike the 4th Jägers Down, but They Will Only Grow Stronger:

On the 3rd of October, the evil TRR and the Glorious 4th Jäger company met each other on the battlefield; it was a scheduled match for the Rifle tournament.

Our Glorious and Brave 4th Jäger Company had been training day and night for this engagement but alas, the foe came out victorious thanks to their deceit and trickery in the 1st and 2nd Rounds and their refusal to meet us again in 3rd round!

THE BOYS KEEPING 5 MAN SPACING

Here is a breakdown of what happened. [1st round:] Our expert marksmen engaged the enemy in close combat where our aiming skills wouldn't be of much use. We killed a lot of them but they had killed 1 more so the enemy fled like cowards until the timer ran out. [2nd round:] Our brave Jägers were fighting a long-range engagement when out of nowhere they got a kill this was very suspicious and naturally we filed a report to the 4th Jäger investigation unit and they found out that the enemy must have used aimbot this was no surprise to our Very intelligent Jägers many people had done this before.

Now that we knew all their tricks we challenged them for a [3rd round] but the cowardly enemy refused. Who can blame them? They didn't want to meet our Brave Jägers again.

Here is an interview with Coleslaw our Former head of NA Jägers (What was your reaction when the evil enemy won the 1st and 2nd round?)

- "My reaction was disgust, I knew we could've handled those peasants no problem 4th Jäger Company Best Company!" He screamed.

(What are your thoughts about their dirty tricks?)

- "Their dirty trick was just playing very passive 4th Jäger Company Best Company!" He screamed.

(Why should we have won?)

- "We should've won because we have actual good marksmanship 4th Jäger Company Best Company!" He screamed.

After this minor defeat Coleslaw the Former leader of the North American Jäger Division Handed in his resignation papers to our Glorious leader Alexander05 out of guilt for this minor defeat we tried to convince Coleslaw that it was not his fault but he refused.

And a word from our glorious leader Molty: Join the 4th Jäger Company because we are the best.

(Coleslaw Interviewed. Written by Mehdi)

Opinion Article: Denmark; Is It A Conspiracy???

Firstly, it has to be said that this "country" has a recorded history that dates back to the 8th century. This history is supported through written sources created by monastic societies all around northern Europe. These "Danes" were supposed raiders alongside the maritime borders in the north of the continent.

Furthermore, there are approximately 5.8 million people that call themselves "Danish". When questioning those people they mostly react in a shocked or hostile way and question your intelligence. They will ask whether you visited school or were dropped on your head as a child. Nevertheless, some people were kind enough to help us and pointed out that Denmark could be found on Google maps.

However, after conducting countless minutes of research on the internet scientists have come to the conclusion that the entirety of the story of the origins of Denmark has been made up by the infamous ZUCC. What does this mean for you, you might ask yourself?

According to new studies believing that Denmark is real will limit you to 10 % of your brain capacity and can lead to damage. This is due to Facebook spreading alpha waves into your brain whenever you think “Denmark” is real.

The Königsberg Times

Therefore, we have concluded that this “Danish” conspiracy affects all of us and must be stopped. Wake up Sheeple!

(Written by MasterEi)

The 8thLR Takes 3rd Place in Artillery Tournament:

As the Artillery Tournament comes to a close, I decided to sit with BigMamba to get some closing thoughts as he played Minecraft with Wrexial. “We did alright!” He said excitedly. “We didn’t practice one bit but still got 3rd place! We didn’t practice for shit.”

Regarding the other teams in the tournament, the strongest teams we were up against were the “KRA and 51st, everyone else was pretty scrub,” he laughed. He did mention that the “45e were a big challenge as well.”

I was originally concerned with us going into this tournament. While we are known to wipe entire lines out on the public servers and some regiments know us as the best artillery regiment in the game, the arty v arty set up is a totally different world.

“There’s so much more to artillery with shooting lines and stuff where we pretty much prioritize shooting lines than shooting arty... I’d rather blow up lines than blow up arty.”

He was proud of the team we were able to pull together for it. “RoosterCooster with that one kill towards the end surprised me... he came in late, but he helped a lot.

Kenny and Chump really improved.”

It was brought to my attention a meme video made by the KRA going around using a clip from Pirates of the Caribbean. It’s the scene with Cutler Beckett (who is supposed to be Mamba) panicking as his ship sails between the Black Pearl and the Flying Dutchman (both of which are representing the KRA’s two artillery pieces.)

“Ok, that’s pretty good,” he chuckles, but then mentions: “Imagine being proud of an arty v arty tournament when that’s literally the only thing you’re good at.”

When asked if we would do another artillery tournament, he stated “Oh, we’re not doing that, let’s be honest... maybe for practice.”

(BigMamba Interviewed. Written by Muszy)

Advertisements:

DEAL OR NO DEAL: I hope to revive the Bounty Hunter shop by hosting some new game shows here on the Discord. Participate for a Grand Prize of 20,000 Bounty Bucks! Let @Muszy know if you’re interested!

We’re always looking for new members of our Newspaper Staff, specifically much needed Reporters and Interviewers! Or you can help us out with advice in #news-suggestions.

8thLR Halloween Meme Battle Editor’s Picks!

You still have until the 31st to Participate in our Halloween Meme Battle! Be sure to follow the rules and the memes should have an 8thLR element and a Spooky Element!

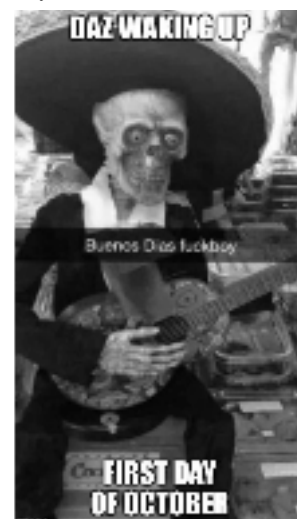

(These are just my favorites so far, I am not a judge so these opinions do not affect the outcome.)

(General Raynor)

(Jay)

(Flapjack)